PENTECOST COLLECTION FOR SEMINARIAN EDUCA- TION - Next weekend is the

Pentecost Collection for the Education of Seminarians. 100% of these funds are used to educate our diocesan seminarians. Please continue to pray for our seminarians and support the funding of their education through this important collection. Thank you for your generosity!

ASCENSION SUNDAY, June 2, 2019- C

We welcome Fr. Silvino Ndayambaje to St. Joseph's! Fr. Silvino will be with us from this weekend through July 5th. On July 6th, we will welcome Fr. Tommy Lane for the remainder of the month. My great gratitude goes out to both Fr. Silvino and Fr. Tommy for their assistance at our parish during my absence this summer. Also, thank you ahead of time for the warm welcome and hospitality that I know you will show both of them over these coming weeks.

By the time you read this bulletin column, I will be on the way to Washington, DC, for the summer. Over the next two months, I will be living at Theological College, which is a diocesan seminary adjacent to the Catholic University of America campus. Before leaving, however, I will have the chance to join many of the priests and faithful of our diocese in celebrating the Mass of Ordination for our three new priests (Fr. Jose, Fr. Dan, and Fr. Spenser). Fr. Jose and Fr. Dan will begin their assignments as associate pastors within our diocese in the coming weeks. Fr. Spenser will assist at a parish during the summer before returning to the North American College in Rome for one final year of seminary studies. Next year, he will return home to our diocese and will be assigned as an associate pastor to one of our parishes.

As is seen in the ordination of these three young men, our diocese has been blessed with a wonderful problem: many priestly vocations! Since my own ordination only three years ago (with my two classmates), we have had an additional ten young men ordained to the priesthood of Jesus Christ for our diocese. In these ordinations, we see the Church continuing in "the promise of the Father" (Acts 1:4) as St. Luke speaks of in our first reading (Acts 1:1-11). Through the laying on of hands (1 Timothy 4:14), the priest is imbued with the Holy Spirit and the Church's authority, given by Christ, continues in the world. And, as St. Paul writes to the Ephesians in our second reading (Ephesians 1:17-23), this same Church is the body of Christ.

These two readings help emphasize a reflection St. Augustine wrote on the Ascension in the 4th Century: Jesus "is our head and we are His body... No one but Christ descended and no one but Christ ascended; not because there is no distinction between the head and the body, but because the body as a unity cannot be separated from the head." The Church, as the Body of Christ, has continued over these two millennia to make Christ present to the world. And, we, as members of that same body through the Church, must continue this mission. Like the disciples in our Gospel today (Luke 24:46-53), we must continually praise God with great joy and bring into the world the love of Christ that we ourselves experience.

Next weekend, we will celebrate the Feast of Pentecost. To reiterate what I said above, our diocese has a wonderful problem in that we have many young men discerning God's call to the priesthood for our diocese. This problem does, however, come at a significant financial cost for the diocese. Seminary often lasts 6-8 years and includes a variety of studies, pastoral work, and discernment to adequately prepare our young priests to minister within our diocese. To assist in this burden of seminarian education, we will join every parish in the diocese to take up a special second collection next weekend for the Seminarian Education Fund. On behalf of our seminarians and future priests, thank you for your generosity. (Given our weekly parish prayer for vocations, with its special focus on religious and priestly vocations, this fund may one day, please God, assist a seminarian and future priest from within our own parish family.)

As we celebrate the Feast of Pentecost, we will also celebrate our six high school graduates with our annual Baccalaureate Mass. Congratulations to our graduates and may God bless you on the next step of your journey!

DISCERNMENT RETREAT

There is an upcoming discernment retreat for young women, ages 17-30, June 14-16 at the Sisters of St. Francis of Perpetual Adoration's motherhouse in Mishawaka. For information and registration regarding the retreat, please visit their website: www.ssfpa.org. There will be time for adoration, Mass, Confession; meals and recreation with sisters; time to meet one-on-one with a sister or priest; time for vocation stories and Q & A; and three talks about prayer and discernment, as well as a bit about our Franciscan spirituality and charism of perpetual adoration. It's a great exposure to our community and to religious life. You are in our prayers before the Blessed Sacrament, and may God give you his peace!
